CHAPTER 26

The Great West and the Agricultural Revolution, 1865–1896

PART I: REVIEWING THE CHAPTER

A. CHECKLIST OF LEARNING OBJECTIVES

After mastering this chapter, you should be able to

1. describe the nature of the cultural conflicts and battles that accompanied the white American migration into the Great Plains and the Far West.

2. explain the development of federal policy towards Native Americans in the late nineteenth century.

3. analyze the brief flowering and decline of the cattle and mining frontiers.

4. explain the impact of the closing of the frontier, and the long-term significance of the frontier for American history.

5. describe the revolutionary changes in farming on the Great Plains.

6. describe the economic forces that drove farmers into debt, and describe how the Grange, the Farmers’ Alliances, and the Populist Party organized to protest their oppression.

B. GLOSSARY

To build your social science vocabulary, familiarize yourself with the following terms:

1. nomadic (nomad) A way of life characterized by frequent movement from place to place for economic sustenance. “... the Sioux transformed themselves from foot-traveling, crop-growing villagers to wide-ranging nomadic traders...” (p. 591)

2. immunity Freedom or exemption from some imposition. “... [the] militia massacred... four hundred Indians who apparently thought they had been promised immunity.” (p. 593)

3. reservation Public lands designated for use by Indians. “The vanquished Indians were finally ghettoized on reservations...” (p. 595)

4. ward Someone considered incompetent to manage his or her own affairs and therefore placed under the legal guardianship of another person or group. “... there [they had] to eke out a sullen existence as wards of the government.” (p. 595)

5. probationary Concerning a period of testing or trial, after which a decision is made based on performance. “The probationary period was later extended...” (p. 597)

6. folklore The common traditions and stories of a people. “These bowlegged Knights of the Saddle... became part of American folklore.” (p. 602)

7. irrigation Watering land artificially, through canals, pipes, or other means. “... irrigation projects... caused the ‘Great American Desert’ to bloom...” (p. 604)
8. meridian In geography, any of the imaginary lines of longitude running north and south on the globe. “...settlers... rashly pushed... beyond the 100th meridian...” (p. 604)

9. contiguous Joined together by common borders. “Only Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Arizona remained to be lifted into statehood from contiguous territory on the mainland of North America.” (p. 606)

10. safety valve Anything, such as the American frontier, that allegedly serves as a necessary outlet for built-up pressure, energy, and so on. “But the ‘safety-valve’ theory does have some validity.” (p. 607)

11. loan shark A person who lends money at an exorbitant or illegal rate of interest. “The [farmers]... cried out in despair against the loan sharks...” (p. 610)

12. serfdom The feudal condition of being permanently bound to land owned by someone else. “...the farmers were about to sink into a status suggesting Old World serfdom.” (p. 610)

13. mumbo jumbo Mysterious and unintelligible words or behavior. “Kelley, a Mason, even found farmers receptive to his mumbo jumbo of passwords and secret rituals...” (p. 611)

14. prophet A person believed to speak with divine power or special gifts, sometimes including predicting the future (hence any specially talented or eloquent advocate of a cause). “Numerous fiery prophets leapt forward to trumpet the Populist cause.” (p. 613)

15. citadel A fortress occupying a commanding height. “...join hands with urban workers, and mount a successful attack on the northeastern citadels of power.” (p. 614)

PART II: CHECKING YOUR PROGRESS

A. True-False

Where the statement is true, circle T; where it is false, circle F.

1. T F Cultural conflicts and population loss to disease weakened the Plains Indians' ability to resist white encroachment onto their lands.

2. T F The Plains Indians were rather quickly and easily defeated by the U.S. Army.

3. T F A crucial factor in defeating the Indians was the destruction of the buffalo, a vital source of food and other supplies.

4. T F Humanitarian reformers respected the Indians’ traditional culture and tried to preserve their tribal way of life.

5. T F Individual gold and silver miners proved unable to compete with large mining corporations and trained engineers.

6. T F During the peak years of the Long Drive, the cattlemen’s prosperity depended on driving large beef herds great distances to railroad terminal points.

7. T F More families acquired land under the Homestead Act than from the states and private owners.

8. T F Although very few city dwellers ever migrated west to take up farming, the frontier “safety valve” did have some positive effects on eastern workers.

9. T F The farmers who settled the Great Plains were usually single-crop producers dependent on unstable distant markets for their livelihoods.
10. T F The greatest problem facing the farmers was their inability to produce enough grain on western prairies lands that were more difficult to cultivate.

11. T F A fundamental problem of the Farmers’ Alliance was their inability to overcome the racial division between white and black farmers in the South.

12. T F The economic crisis of the 1890s strengthened the Populists’ belief that farmers and industrial workers should form an alliance against economic and political oppression.

13. T F Republican political manager Mark Hanna struggled to raise enough funds to combat William Jennings Bryan’s pro-silver campaign.

14. T F Bryan’s populist campaign failed partly because he was unable to persuade enough urban workers to join his essentially rural-based cause.

15. T F McKinley’s victory in 1896 ushered in an era marked by Republican domination, weakened party organization, and the fading of the money issue in American politics.

B. Multiple Choice

Select the best answer and circle the corresponding letter.

1. Western Indians offered strong resistance to white expansion through their effective use of
   a. artillery and infantry tactics.
   b. their alliance with remaining Mexican resistors in the West.
   c. nighttime and winter campaigning.
   d. repeating rifles and horses.

2. Intertribal warfare among Plains Indians increased in the late nineteenth century because of
   a. the attempt of the Chippewas to gain dominance over all other groups.
   b. the confining of several different groups within a single reservation.
   c. growing competition for the rapidly dwindling hunting grounds.
   d. the rise of the “Ghost Dance” among some Indian groups.

3. The federal government’s attempt to confine Indians to certain areas through formal treaties was largely ineffective because
   a. the nomadic Plains Indians largely rejected the idea of formal authority and defined territory.
   b. Congress refused to ratify treaties signed with the Indians.
   c. the treaties made no effective provisions for enforcement.
   d. the largest tribe, the Sioux, refused to sign any treaties with the whites.

4. The warfare that led up to the Battle of the Little Big Horn was set off by a. white intrusion into the previously reserved Indian territory of Oklahoma.
   b. Indian attacks on the transcontinental railroad construction crews.
   c. white intrusions after the discovery of gold in the sacred Black Hills.
   d. a conflict over the interpretation of the second Treaty of Fort Laramie.

5. Indian resistance was finally subdued because
   a. most of the effective Indian leadership was bought off.
   b. the coming of the railroad led to the destruction of the buffalo and the Indians’ way of life.
   c. most Indians lost the will to resist.
   d. the army developed effective techniques of guerrilla warfare.

6. The federal government attempted to force Indians away from their traditional values and customs by
   a. instructing them in white farming methods.
   b. creating a network of children’s boarding schools and white “field matrons.”
   c. establishing scholarships for Indian students at white colleges.
d. developing programs of bilingual education in reservation schools.

7. Both the mining and cattle frontiers saw
   a. an increase of ethnic and class conflict.
   b. a loss of economic viability after an initial boom.
   c. a turn from large-scale investment to the individual entrepreneur.
   d. a movement from individual operations to large-scale corporate businesses.

8. The problem of developing agriculture in the arid West was solved most successfully through
   a. concentrating agriculture in the more fertile mountain valleys.
   b. the use of small-scale family farms rather than large “bonanza” farms.
   c. the use of irrigation from dammed western rivers.
   d. the turn to desert crops like olives and dates.

9. The “safety valve” theory of the frontier holds that
   a. Americans were able to divert the most violent elements of the population to the West.
   b. the conflict between farmers and ranchers was relieved by the Homestead Act.
   c. unemployed city dwellers could move west and thus relieve labor conflict in the East.
   d. political movements such as the Populists provided relief for the most serious grievances of western farmers.

10. Which one of these factors did not make the trans-Mississippi West a unique part of the American frontier experience?
    a. The large numbers of Indians, Hispanics, and Asian Americans in the region
    b. The problem of applying new technologies in a hostile wilderness
    c. The scale and severity of environmental challenges in an arid environment
    d. The large role of the federal government in economic and social development

11. By the 1880s, most western farmers faced hard times because
    a. free land was no longer available under the Homestead Act.
    b. they were unable to increase grain production to keep up with demand.
    c. they were being strangled by excessive federal regulation of agriculture.
    d. they were forced to sell their grain at low prices in a depressed world market.

12. Which of the following was not among the political goals advocated by the Populist Party in the 1890s?
    a. Nationalizing the railroad, telegraph, and telephone
    b. Creation of a national system of unemployment insurance and old-age pensions
    c. A graduated income tax
    d. Free and unlimited coinage of silver money

13. The U.S. government’s response to the Pullman strike aroused great anger from organized labor because
    a. it seemed to represent “government by injunction” designed to destroy labor unions.
    b. it broke apart the growing alliance between urban workers and farmers.
    c. it undermined efforts to organize federal workers like those in the postal service.
    d. it turned their most effective leader, Eugene V. Debs, into a cautious conservative.

14. William Jennings Bryan gained the Democratic nomination in 1896 because he strongly advocated
    a. unlimited coinage of silver in order to inflate currency.
    b. higher tariffs in order to protect the American farmer.
    c. government ownership of the railroads and the telegraph system.
    d. a coalition between white and black farmers in the South and Midwest.

15. McKinley defeated Bryan primarily because he was able to win the support of
    a. white southern farmers.
    b. eastern wage earners and city dwellers.
c. urban and rural blacks.
d. former Populists and Greenback Laborites.

C. Identification
Supply the correct identification for each numbered description.

1. _______ Major northern Plains Indian nation that fought and eventually lost a bitter war against the U.S. Army, 1876–1877
2. _______ Southwestern Indian tribe led by Geronimo that carried out some of the last fighting against white conquest
3. _______ Generally poor areas where vanquished Indians were eventually confined under federal control
4. _______ Indian religious movement, originating out of the sacred Sun Dance that the federal government attempted to stamp out in 1890
5. _______ Federal law that attempted to dissolve tribal landholding and establish Indians as individual farmers
6. _______ Huge silver and gold deposit that brought wealth and statehood to Nevada
7. _______ General term for the herding of cattle from the grassy plains to the railroad terminals of Kansas, Nebraska, and Wyoming
8. _______ Federal law that offered generous land opportunities to poorer farmers but also provided the unscrupulous with opportunities for hoaxes and fraud
9. _______ Improved type of fencing that enabled farmers to enclose land on the treeless plains
10. _______ Former “Indian Territory” where “sooners” tried to get the jump on “boomers” when it was opened for settlement in 1889
11. _______ Third political party that emerged in the 1890s to express rural grievances and mount major attacks on the Democrats and Republicans
12. _______ Popular pamphlet written by William Hope Harvey that portrayed pro-silver arguments triumphing over the traditional views of bankers and economics professors
13. _______ Bitter labor conflict in Chicago that brought federal intervention and the jailing of union leader Eugene V. Debs
14. _______ Spectacular convention speech by a young pro-silver advocate that brought him the Democratic presidential nomination in 1896
15. _______ Popular term for those who favored the “status quo” in metal money and opposed the pro-silver Bryanites in 1896

D. Matching People, Places, and Events
Match the person, place, or event in the left column with the proper description in the right column by inserting the correct letter on the blank line.

1. _______ Sand Creek, Colorado
2. _______ Little Big Horn

   a. Ohio industrialist and organizer of McKinley’s victory over Bryan in the election of 1896
3. Sitting Bull
4. Chief Joseph
5. Geronimo
6. Helen Hunt Jackson
7. John Wesley Powell
8. William Hope Harvey
9. Eugene V. Debs
10. James B. Weaver
11. Mary E. Lease
12. Mark Hanna

b. Leader of the Nez Percé tribe who conducted a brilliant but unsuccessful military campaign in 1877
c. Author of the popular pro-silver pamphlet “Coin’s Financial School”
d. Former Civil War general and Granger who ran as the Greenback Labor party candidate for president in 1880
e. Leader of the Sioux during wars of 1876–1877
f. Explorer and geologist who warned that traditional agriculture could not succeed west of the 100th meridian
g. Leader of the Apaches of Arizona in their warfare with the whites
h. Site of Indian massacre by militia forces in 1864
i. Massachusetts writer whose books aroused sympathy for the plight of the Native Americans
j. Site of major U.S. Army defeat in the Sioux War of 1876–1877
k. Railway union leader who converted to socialism while serving jail time during the Pullman strike
l. Eloquent Kansas Populist who urged farmers to “raise less corn and more hell”

E. Putting Things in Order
Put the following events in correct order by numbering them from 1 to 5.

1. ________ A sharp economic depression leads to a major railroad strike and the intervention of federal troops in Chicago.
2. ________ The violation of agreements with the Dakota Sioux leads to a major Indian war and a military disaster for the U.S. cavalry.
3. ________ A federal law grants 160 acres of land to farmers at token prices, thus encouraging the rapid settlement of the Great West.
4. ________ The U.S. Census Bureau declares that there is no longer a clear line of frontier settlement, ending a formative chapter of American history.
5. ________ Despite a fervent campaign by their charismatic young champion, pro-silver Democrats lose a pivotal election to “Gold Bug” Republicans.
F. Matching Cause and Effect

Match the historical cause in the left column with the proper effect in the right column by writing the correct letter on the blank line.

G. Developing Historical Skills

Comparing Election Maps

Comparing maps of two consecutive elections enables you to see what political changes have occurred in a relatively brief historical period. The election map on p. 628 shows the vote by county; the one on p. 637 shows the vote by state. Keep that difference in mind as you answer the following questions:

1. Six western states had significant votes for the Populist Weaver in 1892. Who carried them in 1896?
2. List six states where Democrat Cleveland had strong support in 1892 that turned around and voted Republican in 1896. In which region were most such states located?

3. List five states that stayed solidly Republican in both 1892 and 1896, and five states that stayed solidly Democratic. In which regions were each of these groups of “solid” states located?

4. In 1892, nine midwestern and western states had substantial concentrations of Populist voters. In the election of 1896, how many of those nine states went Democratic, and how many went Republican?

H. Map Mastery

Map Discrimination
Using the maps and charts in Chapter 26, answer the following questions:

1. In the election of 1892, which three western states had no counties that backed the Populist party?

2. Which four southern states had the most Populist support in the election of 1892 (that is, at least three counties that went Populist)?

3. In the election of 1896, how many electoral votes did McKinley win from states west of the Mississippi River?

4. How many electoral votes did McKinley win in the southern states of the old Confederacy?

Map Challenge
Using the maps of American Agriculture in 1900 (p. 609) and Presidential Election of 1896 (p. 620, discuss the relationship between the Populist and pro-silver movements and the patterns of American agriculture. Include in your analysis some analysis of those Midwestern agricultural states that may have been influenced by Populism but did not vote for Bryan in 1896.
PART III: APPLYING WHAT YOU HAVE LEARNED

1. How did whites finally overcome resistance of the Plains Indians, and what happened to the Indians after their resistance ceased?

2. What social, ethnic, environmental, and economic factors made the trans-Mississippi West a unique region among the successive American frontiers?

3. What were the actual effects of the frontier on American society at different stages of its development? What was valuable in Frederick Jackson Turner's "frontier thesis," despite its being discredited by subsequent historians?

4. How did the forces of economic class conflict and race figure into the farmer and labor revolt of the 1880s and 1890s? Was there ever any chance that a bi-racial coalition of farmers could have succeeded not only in economic change but in overcoming the South's racial divisions? Were race relations actually worse after the Populist revolt failed?

5. Were the Populist and pro-silver movements of the 1880s and 1890s essentially backward-looking protests by a passing rural America, or were they, despite their immediate political failure, genuine prophetic voices raising central critical questions about democracy and economic justice in the new corporate industrial America?

6. What were the major issues in the crucial campaign of 1896? Why did McKinley win, and what were the long-term effects of his victory?

7. Some historians have seen Bryan as the political heir of Jefferson and Jackson, and McKinley as the political heir of Hamilton and the Whigs. Are such connections valid? Why or why not? (See Chapters 10, 12, and 13.)

8. The settlement of the "Great West" and the farmers' revolt occurred at the same time as the rise of industrialism and the growth of American cities. To what extent were the defeat of the Indians, the destruction and exploitation of western resources, and the populist revolt of the farmers caused by the Gilded Age forces of industrialization and urbanization?
